

A New Way to Map Your Journey of Faith and Finance

Saving Grace: A Guide to Financial Well-Being

An essential for faith leaders, this exciting new program explores the financial wellness journey for those seeking to create healthy relationships with money and align faith with finance. Participants will learn skills and tools that support them in examining how to spend, save, give and budget. The course is designed to help pastors and their congregations gain comfort around conversations about money, share and address life's joys and concerns, and reach financial goals.
