B.3. and B.6. of this Investment Policy.

A. Generally, a “core business” is one that accounts for 10% or more of a company’s revenue derived from the objectionable products and/or services and discontinuing the activity would materially change the nature of the company’s operations.

Engagement may include supporting regulatory interventions if, in the judgment of UMCBB, such action shall improve the sustainability of its investment funds.
- F. Management of Excessive Sustainability Risk: ESG issues can present an excessive degree of sustainability risk to UMCBB's funds due to their fiduciary implications and their importance to The United Methodist Church. When UMCBB identifies such issues, it shall develop a guideline regarding its company-specific engagement priorities. This guideline may also lead to the exclusion of certain companies until the risk of holding securities in the affected companies has been resolved, or if UMCBB believes that it cannot reasonably mitigate the sustainability risk. The Board must approve all guidelines relating to the management of excessive sustainability risk.

Fixed Income Fund – P Series

The strategy below is subject to review by the Board no less than annually.

- I. Fund Objective: To earn current income while preserving capital by primarily investing in a diversified mix of fixed income securities.
- II. Fund Performance Benchmark: Bloomberg U.S. Universal Index (excluding Mortgage-Backed Securities).
- III. Performance Objective: To produce a return that exceeds that of the performance benchmark by 50 basis points on average per year over a market cycle (five to seven years) and net of external management fees, custody fees and administrative and operating expenses.
- IV. Investment Strategy: The Fund employs a blended approach of enhanced passive and active investment management. For the enhanced passive management component, the Fund’s manager attempts to slightly exceed the return of the performance of the benchmark (10 basis points). For active management, the Fund relies on asset management firms to exercise professional judgment in seeking investments in attractively valued securities that, in their opinion, represent good long-term investment opportunities. The Fund is intended to complement the Inflation Protection Fund in terms of credit exposure. Accordingly, the Fund will tend to have a lower allocation to U.S. Government debt than what is typical for a diversified bond fund. Passive and active asset managers are subject to portfolio screening restrictions.

- I. Fund Objective: To provide investors with current income and to protect principal from long-term loss of purchasing power due to inflation by primarily investing in fixed income securities and commodity futures with high correlations to inflation.

- II. Fund Performance Benchmark: The Fund uses a blended benchmark to measure the success of its performance. The benchmark includes the following:
 - 80% Bloomberg World Gov't Inflation-Linked (Hedged) index
 - 10% Bloomberg EM Tradable Inflation-Linked (EMTIL) (Unhedged) index
 - 10% Bloomberg Commodity index

- III. Performance Objective: To produce a return that exceeds that of the performance benchmark by 25 basis points on average per year over a market cycle (five to seven years) and net of external management fees, custody fees and administrative and operating expenses).

- IV. Investment Strategy: The Fund employs a blended approach of enhanced passive and active asset management. For the enhanced passively managed component, the Fund's asset manager attempts to slightly exceed the return of the performance benchmark (10 basis points). For the active management component, the Fund's asset manager(s) exercise(s) professional judgment to seek attractively valued investments that, in their opinion, represent good long-term investment opportunities. The Fund is intended to complement the Fixed Income Fund in terms of credit exposure, as the Fund is comprised primarily of U.S. Government and foreign government debt. The Fund also attempts to modestly improve investment returns by investing 10% of its assets in commodities, 10% in floating rate senior secured loans, and 5% in inflation-hedged illiquid strategies such as real assets and other alternative investments that provide an inflation hedge. Asset managers are subject to portfolio screening restrictions.

Exhibit J

Derivatives Investment Policy

The strategy below is subject to review by the Board no less than annually.

- I. Definition: A derivative is a financial instrument whose value is derived from, in whole or part, the value of any one or more underlying securities or assets of an index of securities or assets (such as bonds, stocks, commodities and currencies). Mortgage-backed securities and asset-backed securities are not considered derivatives for the purpose of this policy. Derivatives may be purchased through a national exchange or through an over-the-counter direct arrangement with a qualified counterparty.

- II. Philosophy: UMCBB may use derivatives to manage asset exposure and risks in a prudent, timely and cost-effective manner. This is accomplished by using derivatives to achieve exposure that could otherwise be achieved with physical securities as well as strategies described in Section V below. Derivatives shall only be used to acquire or hedge asset and risk exposures consistent with approved investment policies and portfolio guidelines. Generally, derivatives are primarily to be used for tactical implementation of UMCBB's investment strategies. Long-term strategic use of derivatives is generally discouraged unless it is impractical to hold the physical assets represented by the derivative contracts (e.g. commodities).

- III. Objective: To facilitate cost-effective and timely investment and risk management, provide for trading efficiency (i.e. speed of trade execution and lower cost), and to optimize asset allocation in cases where using derivatives may be more cost-effective than purchasing/selling physical securities in illiquid financial markets. In addition, derivatives may be used to enhance or manage the risk/return profile of individual securities or portfolios.

- IV. Authorization for Executing Derivative Transactions: Qualified external asset managers specifically contracted by UMCBB may engage in derivatives transactions only if the transactions are consistent with the overall investment objectives of the asset manager's investment mandate. Additionally, for the derivative transactions UMCBB periodically directs to fulfill UMCBB's asset allocation objectives, UMCBB staff will maintain detailed policies and procedures for initiating, documenting, and monitoring directed derivative transactions. The procedures shall require a Derivatives Strategy Form and Directed Exposure Form for each transaction with multiple signoffs and reviews by UMCBB staff, including the Chief Investment Officer.

- V. Permitted Strategies:
Derivatives may be used to facilitate the following strategies:
 - A. Manage overall asset allocation of a fund, including rebalancing activities
 - B. Implement investment strategies in a low-cost and efficient manner

- C. Construct portfolios with risk/return characteristics that could not be created with cash market securities
- D. Manage transition of assets between asset managers
- E. Hedge cash balances in a fund to replicate the performance of a permitted fund asset class within a fund
- F. Hedge or manage exposure to equity markets
- G. Hedge or manage duration, total return, yield or credit exposure, sector and/or country exposure
- H. Hedge or manage the risk/return profiles of individual securities of a portfolio.
- I. Hedge or manage commodity exposures
- J. Hedge or manage currency exposures

VI. Permitted Types of Derivatives:

- A. Futures
- B. Options
- C. Forward Contracts
- D. Credit Default Swaps
- E. Interest Rate Swaps
- F. Warrants

VII. Restrictions:

- A. Derivatives shall not be used to replicate the performance of an asset class not specifically listed in Section III of the Investment Policy.
- B. Derivatives are not permitted for the purpose of leveraging a portfolio unless specifically approved by the Board.
- C. Asset managers shall reconcile cash and margin requirements. concerning derivatives on a daily basis with UMCBB's custodian bank.
- D. Speculation with derivatives is prohibited.

VIII. Delegations of Authority:

The Board delegates to UMCBB staff the following responsibilities for administering this policy:

- A. Define the strategy parameters and guidelines for portfolios using derivative strategies including risk assessment and counterparty guidelines;
- B. Select asset managers to execute derivatives strategies;
- C. Monitor on a daily basis all derivatives activities to assure that they comply with this policy and are within strategy, asset class and overall fund investment guidelines; and
- D. Report to the Board not less than annually all derivative strategies executed by Wespeth UMCBB for the preceding year.

Exhibit K Securities Lending Policy

The strategy below is subject to review by the Board no less than annually.

- I. Definition: Securities lending is an agreement between a lender and a borrower to temporarily transfer ownership of a security for a variety of strategies executed by the borrower. Transactions are structured so that the lender retains the economic benefits of the security and receives any distributions such as coupon interest and dividend payments that occur with respect to the security during the life of the lending transaction. The lender receives cash or non-cash collateral in the form of U.S. government, agency securities, and investment grade corporate debt from the borrower as collateral to ensure that the borrower returns the borrowed securities. Typically, the borrower provides additional margin to collateralize the lending transaction. The lender pays the borrower a rate of interest on the cash collateral called the “rebate” rate. The lender generates income primarily from the difference between the risk free rate (U.S. Treasury Bills) and the rebate rate paid on cash collateral received from the borrower or the securities lending fee earned on non-cash collateral loans. Additionally, by investing in cash equivalent instruments other than U.S. Treasury Bills, UMCBB may be able to earn an additional spread over and above the risk-free rate, depending on market conditions. In both cases, the lender transfers all ownership rights to the securities, such as the right to vote proxies. The lender, however, has the ability to direct the lending agent to recall securities for proxy voting. Such action allows UMCBB to execute its sustainable investor engagement initiatives.

- II. Philosophy: UMCBB may engage in securities lending activity for the purpose of adding incremental value to UMCBB’s investment program. All publicly traded fixed income and equity securities held by UMCBB are eligible for lending under this program. The program is to be administered by highly-qualified third party lending agents that incur minimal risk. The program is to be administered to generate incremental income while safeguarding the return of principal and ensuring liquidity.

- III. Objective:
 - A. To generate incremental income from a high-quality program that safeguards the return of principal, maintains adequate daily liquidity, ensures diversification and tightly controls exposure to fluctuating interest rates by lending securities to qualified borrowers.

 - B. The lending portfolio should generate income primarily from the difference between the risk-free rate (U.S. Treasury Bills) and the rebate rate paid on cash collateral received from the borrower or the securities lending fee earned on non-cash collateral loans. Additionally, by investing in cash equivalent instruments other than U.S. Treasury Bills, UMCBB may be able to earn an additional spread over and above the risk-free rate, depending on market conditions.

- C. The securities lending program will be conducted in a manner so as not to interfere with the management of the P Series funds.

IV. Permitted Investments for Cash Collateral Reinvestment:

- A. The lending agent is required to maintain prudent diversification across reinvestment instruments, market sectors, industries and specific issuers:
 - 1. Instruments purchased with cash collateral must be rated in the three highest investment grades assigned by a major rating agency. In the case of split-rated securities, the lowest rating shall prevail.
 - 1. No instrument purchased with cash collateral shall have a maturity in excess of three months, with the exception of floating rate instruments, which can have a two-year maturity.
 - 2. The lending agent is required to maintain prudent diversification across reinvestment instruments, market sectors, industries and specific issuers.
- B. The issuers of the securities purchased for reinvestment must adhere to UMCBB's socially responsible investing guidelines outlined in Section III of the Investment Policy.

V. Restrictions:

- A. Borrowing of P Series securities:
 - 1. Permitted borrowers must meet the highest standards as outlined in formal guidelines prepared and monitored by UMCBB staff.
 - 2. The lending agent must ensure that UMCBB has sufficient collateral from borrowers on a daily basis.
 - 3. The following margins requirement apply for securities on loan:
 - a. 102% for domestic equity and fixed income securities; excluding U.S. Treasury Inflation Protected Securities
 - b. 100% for U.S. Treasury Inflation Protected Securities
 - c. 105% for international equity securities
 - 4. The lending agent will be responsible for the preservation of UMCBB's voting rights for all equity securities on loan. Agents may lend equity securities without preserving voting rights if the incremental income from such loan is excessively high unless the company is subject to a UMCBB-sponsored resolution or a resolution which involves an issue of high sensitivity related to the Social Principles.
 - 5. UMCBB has the right to recall any loaned security at any time.
- B. Reinvestment in cash collateral instruments:
(See Section IV above.)

VI. Delegations of Authority:

The Board delegates to UMCBB staff the following responsibilities for administering this policy:

- A. Select and negotiate contract terms with securities lending agents to execute the securities lending program.

- B. Perform oversight and monitoring of the securities lending agents to ensure compliance with this policy and all contractual securities lending guidelines.
- C. Monitor daily all securities on loan to ensure that they are in compliance with established program guidelines.
- D. Maintain a list of approved borrowers and monitor to ensure that lending is conducted only with approved borrowers.
- E. Develop guidelines for prudent diversification of cash collateral reinvestment with respect to types of instruments, market sectors, industries and issuers and ensure compliance.
- F. Maintain a list of acceptable collateral instruments for repurchase agreements (See Section IV above).
- G. Report to the Board quarterly regarding the performance of the securities lending program.
- H. Develop and modify this securities lending policy as well as the detailed securities lending guidelines for securities lending agents where appropriate and to keep current with best industry practices.

Managed Account Program

The strategy below is subject to review by the Board no less than annually.

- V. Definition: A managed account program is an algorithmic based methodology for establishing and monitoring participant investment fund allocations among P Series funds managed by UMCBB and included in the program. The algorithm will consider: participant indicative data, account balances and expected future benefits among pension plans administered by Wespath Benefits and Investments, present value of future expected social security benefits, participant responses to an optional questionnaire, and other relevant information. The algorithm produces target fund allocations that represent participants' ideal allocation to the appropriate P Series funds.
- VI. Philosophy: For pension plan balances administered by the managed account program, UMCBB will attempt to reasonably match the asset allocation that would be determined in accordance with accepted industry practices. This includes setting a higher risk (equity) allocation for younger participants during their asset accumulation years and gradually lowering risk allocations as participants approach the de-accumulation phase of their lives. It also includes evaluating other known assets (including estimated current value of future social security benefits and employer defined benefit programs). The managed account program should also consider unique participant provided inputs such as psychological risk tolerance and future expectations regarding the form of benefit received (such as annuities). UMCBB will engage the services of an external partner/consultant to assist it in developing the algorithm to be applied against participant accounts.
- VII. Objective:
- A. Develop an asset allocation algorithm that will invest participant balances among the P Series funds representing diversified asset classes.
 - B. Design the algorithm in a manner that will allow UMCBB to consider certain limited types of information unique to each participant to facilitate determination of the optimal asset allocation for participant balances invested by the managed account program algorithm.
 - C. Design the algorithm in a manner that will obtain and consider unique participant information that is not available from data that resides elsewhere in UMCBB or Wespath Benefit and Investment ("Wespath")'s systems but may influence the calculation of the optimal asset allocation (e.g. psychological risk tolerance).
 - D. Design the managed account program so that it will periodically evaluate unique participant data for changes and adjust a participant's optimal asset allocation accordingly.
 - E. Design the managed account program so that it will periodically rebalance participant accounts in a controlled and cost-effective manner.

- F. Design the managed account program in a manner that attempts to adhere to a long-term investment approach by discouraging frequent changes by participants to their election of the program or changing information provided by the participant (e.g. psychological risk tolerance).
- G. Periodically evaluate the algorithm to ensure that it reflects best practices for managing participant account balances.

VIII. Quarterly Audits: Each quarter, UMCBB will evaluate target fund allocations and actual allocations for all participants enrolled in the managed account program to ensure that the algorithm is operating as intended.

IX. Annual Review: Each year, UMCBB staff will provide the Board with information regarding the implementation and operation of the managed account program so that the Board can evaluate and assess the effectiveness of the program. This information may include but is not limited to: asset allocation by age group, investment returns for various asset allocation groupings, trends in participant-controlled variables (e.g. psychological risk tolerance and expected ages for converting balances to annuities). Staff will also provide the Board with information regarding best industry practices and how the program does or does not conform with industry practice.
